The general organisation of judges for international and continental archery events is laid out in Book 1, Appendix 4 of the WA Constitution and Rules.

Specific aspects concerning the WAE Continental Judges are listed hereafter.

1. A Judge Committee is constituted as laid out in the WAE Constitution. Members of the committee should preferably be WAE Continental Judges.
 - Its task is to train and develop judging at WAE level. It will organise seminars, conferences and exams to promote national judges to the status of Continental Judge.
 - The Judge Committee will establish and run the procedures for the re-accreditation of Continental Judges.
 - The Judge Committee will call for applications to serve as judge at the yearly WAE events and recommend the members of the relevant judge commissions to WAE EB.
 - The Judge Committee will work in close cooperation with the WA Judge Committee in matters of common interest.

2. To become Continental Judge, a candidate has to attend a seminar and pass successfully the relevant exam.
 - To be eligible to participate at the seminar, the candidate must have accomplished the age of 18 years.
 - To be eligible to participate at the seminar, the candidate must pass a "pre-seminar" test with a "+70%" score. This test will be send as soon as the candidate's member association sends the document for registration. After completing this test, the candidate and his member association will be informed the application of the candidate is accepted or not.
 - To be eligible to participate at the seminar, the candidate must have been accredited as National Judge for a minimum of 2 years. The language of the seminar and exam is English.

- The Member Association of the applicant must submit an application for candidate.
 - No WAE member association may have accredited more than 9 Continental Judges (including WA IJ and IC) with a minimum of 3 female judges.
3. WAE Continental Judges without WA International Judge or International Judge Candidate status will have to undergo the re-accreditation process, which will be organised on a 4 years term, in the same year as takes place the WA re-accreditation process.
- To be able to be re-accredited Continental Judge, the applicants must be supported by their National Association.
 - WA International Judges or International Judge Candidates who fail the WA re-accreditation process will lose their status as WAE Continental Judge and in order to become a WAE Continental Judge again have to attend a seminar and pass the relevant exam.
4. WAE Continental Judges are eligible to submit their application to serve as judge at WAE events.
- The Judge Committee submits the proposal of the judge commission chairperson and the members to WAE EB for approval.
 - In principle, no more than one judge from the same WAE Member Association should be appointed at the same commission.
 - The chairperson of the judge commission submits within a reasonable delay a report of the event and the assessment forms to the Judge Committee.
